Chat with a Woman Leader

Agents, Allies, and Advocates
for a Brighter Future

Join us for this rich conversation with Meredith College President Jo Allen as she shares lessons learned throughout her stellar career—one in which she has led the way as an agent, ally, and advocate of women's leadership across higher education. Together, we will explore why, when, and how we can enact our own agency, stand in solidarity with others, and create opportunities for the greater good from the various positions we hold. Our time with President Allen will inspire and equip you in your ongoing work of being and supporting the leading women of North Carolina's higher education institutions.
